

Planning Self Assessment

Class D

Do I Need Planning Permission for –
The formation of a porch outside any external door of a dwelling?

Use this form if:

You want guidance on whether planning permission will be required for the construction of a porch outside any external door of a dwelling.

Do not use this form if:

- You want a definitive opinion on whether planning permission is required as this can only be provided through a Certificate of Lawful Development.
- The property in question is a flat, maisonette, caravan, park home, commercial property, or became a dwelling by virtue of a change of use through the permitted development legislation.
- The property does not benefit from permitted development rights.

To use this form please read the questions below, and the conditions below them. If you can answer 'no' to all questions and can satisfy all the conditions then it is likely that your proposal can be constructed without planning permission being required.

| | Key Question | Y/N |
|---|--|-----|
| 1 | Will the external area of the porch exceed 3m ² ? | |
| 2 | Will any part of the structure exceed a height of 3m above ground level? | |
| 3 | Will any part of the structure be within 2m of any boundary of the curtilage of the property with a highway, including any footpath? | |

COMPLIANCE WITH THE KEY QUESTIONS HERE INDICATES THAT THE PROPOSED ROOF ALTERATION IS LIKELY TO CONSTITUTE PERMITTED DEVELOPMENT.

Further Details:

If you wish to receive a definitive view on whether planning permission is required then you will need to submit an application for a Lawful Development Certificate to Fylde Council. This is a form of application that involves the submission of detailed plans of the proposal so that we can establish if it complies with the permitted development legislation.

If you wish to see further details of the planning and building regulations process, and for further guidance on permitted development legislation please go to the Planning Portal via

<https://www.planningportal.co.uk/>

If your proposal requires planning permission then you can make a planning application directly to Fylde Council via the website address below, or through the Planning Portal.

If you wish to seek an informal officer opinion regarding the merits of making a planning application for any householder development works then this can be obtained from Fylde Council. Details of this service, which attracts a fee of £50, can be found on the 'pre-application advice' section of our website below.

Notes:

1. Listed Building - If your house is a listed building then Listed Building Consent is likely to be required even if planning permission is not necessary. See <https://historicengland.org.uk/listing/the-list/>
2. Original dwelling - The legislation refers to the term 'original house' which means the house as it was first built or as it stood on 1 July 1948 (if it was built before that date). Although you may not have built an extension to the house, a previous owner may have done so and you should check that there are no restrictive conditions on any planning decision relating to the property.
3. Building Control - This form does not determine the requirement of Building Regulations Approval which comes under different legislation. Our Building Control department has also created a series of self-assessment forms for you to determine whether or not the work you are intending to carry out is exempt from Building Regulations requirements at <https://new.fylde.gov.uk/business/building-control/>

Legislation:

This form is intended to provide a simple summary to the key elements of the permitted development legislation relating to house extensions. The legislation itself is Schedule 2, Part 1 Class D of the Town and Country Planning (General Permitted Development)(England) Order 2015 (as amended). The original version of the legislation is available here <https://www.legislation.gov.uk/uksi/2015/596/contents/made>

Disclaimer:

The information and advice contained in this form is NOT a formal determination under S192 of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990. If you require a written determination on the requirement for planning permission an application for a Certificate of Lawful Proposed Development is required to be submitted with the relevant fee and documentation.
